Perils of a California Correspondent.

Alas! that I should ever have put pen and paper together. If Job desired his enemy to write a book, I can as innocently desire mine to become a newspaper correspondent for the Pacific Coast. When the dashing team of six horses on a gallop comes in from the North it is o'it o'it of labor and sorrow. Your correspondent approaches box 151 with fear and trembling and receives his dose of interrogations. The first opened to-day is from a tooth-carpenter in New Orleans, who opens with a wail of a whole page in one sentence of a hundred heavy words on the political degeneracy of Louisiana in general and feels sufficiently particular to inquire the price of land in the "Great Valley." Orange Grove Association, "rubber gums, gold filling and board bills." The second is from Ohio, and wants to know the price of cattle weighing twelve hundred pounds, also milled cows, land, beef-steak, honey, cornmeal, boots and shoes, honey, hops, hops, rent, carpenter's wages, etc., also if there are schools here and what denominations about? After taking breath we open number three, from the State of Tom Scott, and it inquires how many people there are in Los Angeles, how many in San Francisco and San Francisco and how to get there from those suburban villages; what text books are used in the schools, what are clerk's wages in stores, and what are the chances of getting a situation?

A fourth from New York State, says he knew my father thirty years ago, and therefore feels authorized to claim an intimate acquaintance with the writer, and therefore reaches for me in a few vastly important questions: He wants to know the dark side of the country (probably so to quarrel with his neighbor who wants to come here), what kind of a winter we have, and when and how much it rains?

The fifth, from a pious female from the City of Churches, earnestly desires to hear of the number of churches and the welfare of young men whom she hears do not attend church.

The sixth, from Indiana, wants to know if I really think this a healthy country, and what diseases we have, and what a man can do with forty years of age, a commercial education, five thousand dollars and a small family?

Number seven is from the same State, from an old maid without providing a vineyard to support her in old age.
(Who ever heard a husband called a vineyard before? Is it because they bear so much wine?)

Number eight is from a German, who learns that I and other fellow countrymen, are establishing a colony and he claims room as a man and a brother. Come in brother German.
Come in. How kind in you to compliment me on my German nationality. Owing to the lateness of the hour, half past eleven, P. M., the answers must be brief in order to take the morning mail.

Number One is advised to organize several first class funerals and free schools among the politicians of New Orleans, as usual to be done here when Los Angeles was an insignificant town like New Orleans, then followed price of teeth and land, filled with gold.
Number Two is referred to the market report for the first forty-seven answers, and informed that we have schools of all politics, Spanish, French, German, American; and of denominations we are especially proud, having Boothites, Heathen Chinese, Grangers, Patrons of Husbandry, Pattern Husbandry, Indians, Rancheros, Editors (fine looking ones), without regard to sex or previous condition of servitude. Gophers, Railroad men, Stanford men, Merchants, Wool-growers, Hebrews and Christians. Denominations multiply in this fertile soil. They enjoy themselves and the climate.

Number Three is informed that we claim the number said to be sealed from the twelve tribes, each twelve thousand, but will get more as soon as we can steal another tribe from the Quaker Indian Commissioners. For the distance and route from Frisco and the distance he is referred to the "Railroad Guide" for January, and for text books to the pretexts and contexts of the most eminent school-book publishers, all warranted to wear well in a warm dry climate.

Number Four is answered. Spiritism and spirit currency and the capture of fifteen cents for a dime, and that the rain in winter falls about twice a month on the just and the unjust, just as it does in wicked countries.

Number Five is informed that the churches are rather thin, as Shaks-peare says; but the young men are not so thin as they were, owing to a clear conscience and fine climate.

Number Six. Yes, Sir; but we have a few diseases, such as loss of gratitude, loss of admiration for Eastern climate, reformers, onions in hash, potatoes boiled with their jackets on, fleas, dogs and oleomargarine, but have no lightning-rope peddlers. But that with industry and the favor of Providence his capital of forty years, five thousand dollars and a small family can all be increased.

Number Seven is informed that a blue-eyed vineyard five feet ten, with brown whiskers and mustache is waiting to cluster around her pathway.
Come in, from the beer.

Number Eight is informed that lager is two drinks for a quarter, and a man will cry quarter after shoveling in a pair of drinks. Land is priced according to the distance from the brewery, the highest price being farthest from the beer.

Yours, in the bonds of affection,
D. M. BERRY.

Synopsis of Legislative Proceedings.

SENATE.

January 15.
Mr. Bush presented two petitions, one from the Mayor and Common Council of Los Angeles and the other from the people, asking for authority to issue the bonds of the city of Los Angeles to the amount of $18,000, to pay for grounds deeded to the South Pacific Railroad Company for depot and machine shop purposes.

Mr. Bush—Those are local petitions referring to the city of Los Angeles.
I move that we dispense with their reading, and that they be laid on the table temporarily.

The motion was carried.
By consent Mr. Bush introduced, without previous notice, the following bill: An Act to authorize the corporation of the city of Los Angeles to issue bonds to purchase a railroad depot and workshop grounds.

Mr. Bush—I now move that the petitions I offered a few moments ago be taken up and referred to the Committee on Corporations, with the bill.

The bill and germane petitions were referred to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. Evans, pursuant to notice, introduced the following bill: An Act to regulate the liabilities of hotel keepers and to prevent frauds and fraudulent practices upon or by hotel keepers.

The bill provides that where a hotel is supplied with a safe the landlord shall not be responsible for the loss of valuable property if notice is given that all valuables must be deposited in the safe. The price of board and lodging, by the day, week and month, must be posted in every room and in other public places in a hotel, and the landlord shall be liable to forfeit three times the amount of any overcharge over such rates, and shall not be allowed, in such case to collect anything for accommodation furnished or services rendered. Any person procuring board or lodgings by fraudulent misrepresentations shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

The bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

ASSEMBLY.
Senate Bill No. 97—An Act to amend an Act concerning the compensation of certain county officers in the county of Los Angeles, approved February 26, 1872—was read twice and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

An Act introduced by consensual agreement of Mr. Evans and Mr.
Bowers to an Act entitled an Act concerning the compensation of certain county officers in the county of Los Angeles, approved February 26, 1872.

Read twice, and referred to the Los Angeles delegation.

On motion of Mr. Bowers the House went into Committee on the whole to consider Assembly bills 68 and 76, the latter an act for the relief of Sheriff Rowland of Los Angeles county.

The Committee recommended that the bill be amended making the amount appropriated $1,096 instead of $2,506 and reported it back to the House. It was then recommitted to the Committee on Claims.

Senate Bill No. 118—An Act amendatory of an Act making an appropriation for the capture of the bandit Vasquez and his band, approved January 10, 1873—was read twice and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The Speaker appointed the following persons as a committee to investigate the charges of fraud against members of the Assembly in the late Senatorial election: Summers, Norton, Freeman, Coggins and Simpkins.

Venable offered a concurrent resolution relative to the imposing of a duty on imported tropical and semi-tropical fruit. Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

The Senate bill offering a reward for the capture of Vasquez was passed.
An Act relating to the turning of the San Diego river was ordered engrossed.

Fares and Freight.

A correspondent in another column criticizes the bill now before the Legislature, for the regulation of fares and freights on our railroads, and an examination does show an exceedingly liberal schedule, when compared with the rates that eastern law-givers are disposed to allow, and while they are some lower than the rates actually charged by the roads, it is still doubtful whether our commerce can afford to pay them.

This is a delicate and intricate question to meddle with, and will require the careful study and discussion of more than one Legislature, before an entirely satisfactory act is framed. It is entirely remembered that we in California have our railroads in the main, yet to build, and cannot afford to fight or cripple them, but on the other hand should do all in our power to encourage and stimulate the building of roads on legitimate principles. We should be careful, however, not to allow railroad combinations to take practical control of the State, and dictate to the people the terms on which their business shall be transacted. We have allowed the railroads to go far enough in gaining the ascendancy over us, but are not so badly off as Illinois and some other States that have granted special privileges till it is doubtful whether the people or the corporations control the State, and it is the part of wisdom to shape legislation so that there shall be no question of the power of the State to supervise and regulate these public carriers. Just to what extent it is practicable to fix rates for existing lines, it is impossible to decide without further information, and we hope that before any further action is taken our legislators will take pains to inform themselves more fully. We want a law that will benefit the people and not cripple the roads. We want one too, that will stand the test of judicial criticism, and not as in the case of the Illinois law, be found in the course of two or three years to be a nullity.

Congress has also taken the matter in hand and shows a disposition to regulate business that passes from one State to another, and it is desirable that the enactments passed by it, and by the different States should be harmonious. The National Commission proposed may be made the means of promoting this needed unity of action, and careless and hasty legislation should be avoided, at least till the principles of action be well developed.

The Rebel Archives.

No more inexcusable act has been perpetrated by the present Administration than the purchase with government funds of the so-called rebel archives, and the holding of them in reserve for political purposes. If these archives were proper articles of purchase, they should be open to public inspection, or better, ought to have been published, but the holding of them over the heads of political opponents, is an unworthy use of such an advantage, and a misuse of the people's money. If there were traitors in our midst during the civil war, they should have been exposed as soon as the proof came into the hands of the government officials. The holding of these proofs till a convenient season, and then permitting their use in political and personal warfare, by parties interested in the questions at issue, and therefore likely to garble or alter them, smacks too much of the despotism of Louis Napoleon, and should not be allowed in a Republican government. In Cushing's case, a friendly letter of introduction containing no reasonable sentiments, was so distorted by the hand of personal and partisan malice, that the confirmation of one of our ablest men has been defeated. There is nothing in the letter itself to indicate that Cushing held any sentiments about the rebellion, different from those expressed by Lincoln and Seward, and if the letter had been given to the public, at the time it came into the possession of the government, and in the exact words of the text, it would have caused no particular excitement, and would have been forgotten. Kept in secret however, and manipulated by the hands of his enemies, it has served to destroy the chance of confirming the only decent nomination for Chief Justice that is likely to be made. In this case it was one of the President's friends that has been damaged, and in the revolutions that political matters have undergone, it is impossible to tell where the beginning of exposure is going to strike. This reduces their use, as now held, to serve personal ends. We want no such element in our national politics. The government should either publish all the documents, or destroy them, and have an end of piece-meal and distorted exposure.

Joseph T. Goodman, editor of the Territorial Enterprise, has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to visit San Francisco. He will return to Virginia City in a few days.

SAN FRANCISCO CORRESPONDENCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. After a spell of miserable cold weather when blue noses have been the rage, we have at last a break, and whilst I am writing it rains pretty smart. Stocks still occupy the best attention; California street round and about the Stock Exchange is daily thronged with a motley crowd especially during Board hours; the latter part of last week a slight decline set in, but all is booming again and brokers are jubilant.

ANOTHER GREAT RACE. Another great racing event is on the boards. George Treat, the owner of "Thad Stevens," and Mr. Gage, owner of "Ive Daniels," have agreed to enter their horses in a four mile and repeat race for a stake of $5,000, if that purse is offered by the lessees or owners of a mile track in the neighborhood of San Francisco. The race is to be run in not less than sixty days. Treat also bets Mr. Gage $2,500 that "Thad" will get away with "Ive Daniels" when the race comes off. "True Blue" and "Ballot Box" may possibly enter.

"TRUE BLUE" CHAMBERLAIN. John F. Chamberlain, the owner of "True Blue," writes to a friend in this city that he will be with us again by the first of February, if nothing unusual happens. He has fifteen of the finest colts and fillies in America. Purcus, Mr. Belmont's late trainer, has entered Mr. Chamberlain's employ.

A NEW RACE TRACK. A bill has been rushed through the Assembly granting certain privileges to J. Dickey, H. R. Covey, and others, to lay out a complete sporting and agricultural exhibition establishment. The spot chosen is that tract of land just beyond the cemeteries and between the Golden Gate Park and the Cliff House road. The project is receiving the support of many influential men, and may possibly pass through the Senate, but it will be opposed, "tooth and nail," by the O. R. U., as their beautiful cemetery will be ruined. The idea certainly is revolting of a funeral service being disturbed by the cheers of a racing mob; and the sanctity and seclusion necessary for a burial ground cannot of a surety be found in the vicinity of pool sellers, horse jockeys, and such like.

A CLEVER ESCAPE. A man named McCarthy, who was confined in the city prison, managed to effect his escape very cleverly the other night. From his position behind the bar he had observed that several citizens were busily engaged with the prison-keeper. He therefore applied to the "Trusty" to let him out for a few minutes. This was done, and when not observed he mingled with the citizens, passing out of the door the same time as they did. The natural inference is that the Trusty noticed this movement, but was willfully blind. Alas, however, for human nature, no sooner than was McCarthy free, than he returned to his old tricks, and was soon again in the clutches of the law, as they say. The natural inference is that the Trusty noticed this movement, but was willfully blind. Alas, however, for human nature, no sooner than was McCarthy free, than he returned to his old tricks, and was soon again in the clutches of the law, as they say.

THE CALICO BALL. The great Calico Ball in aid of Ladies' United Aid Society (referred to in my last) was a great success. Over $2,500 was netted to the Society. The toilets were simply splendid. Dresses that cost somewhere between 15 cents to two bits a yard, were made in the highest style of fashion; their diamonds go so well with calico, you know, that, taking all things into consideration, the belles of the room might be considered to stand upright at nothing less than $1,000 a piece. Madam Anna Bishop sang a couple of songs during the evening with her accustomed skill.

AMUSEMENTS. At the California the "Naiad Queen" still continues to attract full houses notwithstanding the lamentable exposure of the Bag and Box trick. The Alhambra bill this week is above the average, there is a burlesque on the Guards, a box trick by Manning and Sweetman, and a thrilling tragedy by the Brothers Strickland. At the Opera House, the laughable fancy of B.B., and the burlesque of Ely O'Connor, are repeated every evening to fair houses.

At the rooms of the Art Association a very pleasant evening can be spent in examining the best collection of pictures ever placed on view in this city. Inna D. Colbrith will have a benefit to-morrow night. A host of talent has volunteered, including Madame Anna Bishop, Harry Edwards and Alf. Wilkie.

MISCELLANEOUS. The Mayor entertained the Duke of Genoa and the officers of the Garibaldi last night at his private residence. The China has not yet arrived, hopes are now entertained that she is being towed in by the succeeding steamer now overdue. John McCullough arrived at Ogden last night, but "switched" off and went to Salt Lake; he will be here Friday night.

The man with the tumblers, at the California Theater, likes California and proposes to settle here, teaching music for a living. Californians know all about tumblers and their contents.

GOLDEN GATE. When a San Jose Chinaman is supposed to have the small pox they call in the Coroner.

Eureka, Nevada, has a citizen named Jones, whose beard is three feet three inches long, and who keeps it braided and hidden within his shirt bosom. In San Francisco there is an attempt being made to induce the Legislature to pass a law prohibiting the selling of liquor in public saloons by women.

Tuolumne county, a few years ago, produced hundreds of thousands of dollars in gold annually, but no wheat. In 1873 it produced over 5,000,000 bushels of wheat, and only $50,000 gold.

The San Jose Mercury wants an ordinance passed by which persons under eighteen years of age can be convicted and punished for misdemeanor if found loitering around concert or drinking saloons or other low dens, or associating with dissolute characters.

THE "LAST" LAY.

Hasn't thou seen the rose at even? Bend its form beneath our feet? Hasn't thou seen the roses of traders Loaded down with Me's new shoes? Hasn't thou seen them on their feet? Hear their huzzies they display? Hasn't thou heard the young men shout, Show us some of Me's best lays? Hasn't thou viewed each new perfection, Sought out each perfect plan? Hasn't thou seen Me's last invention, A perfect fitting boot on man?

Hasn't thou seen this man on foot, Stranger, passing rudely by? Hasn't thou heard him curse that boot? Well, I'm sure no more have I. Now remember where the place is, Right before the Court House door; Don't forget to bring your purses, And your friends—I ask no more. A. S. McDONALD.

Bunker Hill.

A little over a year more, and the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill will take place. A little band of heroes, then inaugurated a struggle, which brought untold results. It is very fitting that their deeds should be commemorated. The nation at large is very justly arranging for a celebration on an extensive scale, of the centennial anniversary of this event. This will instill patriotic impulse into the souls of those of the coming generations, and prepares them for the struggles, which they, in life, must undergo. Overhanging Los Angeles is a hill similar to Bunker Hill—nay, it is larger. From it all the city can be seen and the country for miles around. On this hill also, are military marks, the remnants of a fort, which was built for the protection of liberty in this State. This hill has an avenue running along its crest, and our friend Beaudry, through whose influence chiefly it has been opened, has very appropriately named it Bunker Hill avenue. The City Surveyor has been ordered to define the grades and lines of Olive, Charity, and Bunker Hill avenue, from Hill to Hope; Second street, and Temple street, from Hill to Hope. This will bring these lands within easy reach of the business part of the city. The distance to the Court House is less than it is from the Turners Hall.

Mr. Beaudry being the owner, by perfect and indisputable title, offers the following scheme, believing that it supplies a felt want.

His various tracts have been surveyed, and platted in lots of convenient size for residences, upwards of two hundred in number, and the maps, together with abstracts of title, are kept for public inspection at his office, opposite the Pico House.

Any person desiring to purchase can inspect the land, select his lot or lots, and acquire the same, if not previously taken up by another, upon the following terms: Purchasers not being restricted to a single lot.

The purchaser or his successor to pay the fixed price of the lands selected by him, in equal monthly installments, as follows: On lots valued at $400 and upwards, but not to exceed $500, $15 per month; on those valued at $300 and upwards, and less than $400, $10 per month. Payments in gold or currency, and no interest demanded. For cash in hand a reduction of fifteen per cent. will be made.

The purchaser to have immediate possession upon payment of the first installment and on execution and delivery of contract.

The right of the purchasers may be assigned by him, and his assigns to succeed to all his privileges and liabilities; standing in all respects towards the vendors as original obligors.

Purchasers shall not be restricted to the payment of the installments as above shown, but may make payments in advance, and on all such payments he will allow one per cent. per month, from the date of payment until said payment would become due.

Upon selection of a lot or lots by a purchaser, and payment of the first installment with five dollars, in U. S. gold coin, as expenses on the documents; standing in all respects towards the vendors as original obligors.

Purchasers shall not be restricted to the payment of the installments as above shown, but may make payments in advance, and on all such payments he will allow one per cent. per month, from the date of payment until said payment would become due.

Upon selection of a lot or lots by a purchaser, and payment of the first installment with five dollars, in U. S. gold coin, as expenses on the documents; standing in all respects towards the vendors as original obligors.

Purchasers shall not be restricted to the payment of the installments as above shown, but may make payments in advance, and on all such payments he will allow one per cent. per month, from the date of payment until said payment would become due.

Upon selection of a lot or lots by a purchaser, and payment of the first installment with five dollars, in U. S. gold coin, as expenses on the documents; standing in all respects towards the vendors as original obligors.
